THE PRINCE'S DREAM

The Prince's dream was a vision of the future of the North-West Territories. He saw a land of peace and prosperity, where the Indians and the white men lived together in harmony. He saw a land where the people were happy and content, and where the government was just and fair. He saw a land where the people were united and strong, and where the future was bright and hopeful.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

On our serial story this week Mr. Lewis is supposed to be the life of the life of the life.

We think it would be a good thing if Mr. South were to pay Regina a visit just now.

According to the Winnipeg Sun Mr. Tom's White's visit to Cardwell has not been a success.

The Manitoba papers are talking a lot of chivalrous stuff about the appointment of Mr. Robert Smith of Stratford.

The Toronto Mail when printing itself talks about its financial strength and the big office from which it will issue.

The Winnipeg Press has a most extraordinary article headed "Another Outrageous appointment."

The removal of the town from its location on the flat of the Battle River to the beautiful ridge lying between the Battle and Saskatchewan Rivers, cannot fail to be advantageous.

It cannot be long before you will be in position to send a representative to the North-West Council.
